

Why Choose Us?

HAAS
& ASSOCIATES, P.A.

ATTORNEYS AT LAW

We have the knowledge and experience to take you wherever your case leads, from settlement talks to mediation to litigation.

We have legal services for families at all stages of formation and transition from prenuptial agreements to adoption to separation and divorce.

We work closely with therapists, realtors, financial planners, accountants, and other professionals to make sure you get what you need for the best outcome.

We offer legal services from prior to birth through after death, to make sure we can serve your family during its time of need.

Areas of Practice

- Prenuptials
- Separation / Divorce
- Child Custody
- Child Support
- Spousal Support
- Domestic Violence
- Estate Planning
- Probate
- LGBT Family Law
- Assisted Reproduction Law
- Surrogacy / Donor Agreements

Haas & Associates, P.A.

5100 Oak Park Rd., Ste. 200
Raleigh, NC 27612

(919) 783-9669

www.carolinafamilylaw.com

Respecting and Protecting
ALL Families

What Matters Most For YOUR Family?

www.carolinafamilylaw.com

We protect and respect

ALL families.

Family Planning

If you are ready to start and/or expand your family through assisted reproductive technology, we can help. With the knowledge and experience of helping to create hundreds of families, we work with intended parents, donors, surrogates, clinics, hospitals and courts, to ensure that the proper person(s) are placed on the child's birth certificates and all other parties' rights and obligations have been properly terminated.

Adoption

Whether it be an independent adoption or a stepparent adoption, we can help a child get to its "forever family". When it's time to make a child your own, please let us help guide you through the process, so that there are no unnecessary and/or costly delays.

Separation Agreements

- A legal separation in North Carolina requires that you and your spouse live in separate residences with different addresses. Moving to a separate bedroom, basement or garage does not count!
- Once you achieve a legal separation, the law requires that you wait one year and one day before filing for divorce.
- Most of the hard work of dissolving the marriage occurs during that year.
- The majority of couples achieve an agreement which is then memorialized in a legal contract called a separation agreement.
- Separation Agreements often address all of the key issues in the marriage including but not limited to: custody, child support, spousal support, and division of property.
- Separation agreements also establish timelines for when things are going to happen and how taxes and other logistics will be handled.

Property Division

One of the most complex aspects of a marital dissolution is how to fairly divide marital property. We have the skills and experience to guide you through the difficult process of dealing with: valuing and selling real estate, collections, and vehicles; dividing stock portfolios and retirement accounts; dissolving small businesses and other corporate issues; and a whole lot more...

Child Custody & Support

- The children are the most important focus in any family transition, and we are committed to supporting you in making your kids as happy and comfortable as possible during your family's transition. Being thoughtful about the impact of this change on the kids will go a long way towards helping them heal and adjust.
- We can help you negotiate issues related to co-parenting, custodial schedules, holiday time, school choice, consistency between households, and new relationships.
- When child custody and child support cannot be settled amicably between the parents, we also have the skills and experience to represent you in court.

Spousal Support & Alimony

Separation has a huge financial impact on both spouses. At Haas & Associates, P.A., we are committed to representing both dependent spouses in seeking the financial support they need to get back on their feet, as well as the supporting spouses who are struggling with how to meet the family's needs now that one household has become two.

