

Dan Griswold:

I like family law because it affects so many people. My name is Dan Griswold. I'm a paralegal here at Haas & Associates. I have a degree in political science, and I've always been interested in the law. It's something that I've always wanted to do. I really like everyone that I work with. They really care about their clients. It's a great environment. I really like being here. At some point or another, just about everybody is going to have an issue with the law. And it's nice to be able to help people out when they find themselves in that situation.
